Which pool of candidates do you belong to?

EU candidates

There are 30 (thirty) available seats for EU citizens living anywhere and non-EU citizens living in Italy legally (with a “permesso di soggiorno”/residence permit), who will be ranked in the EU Ranking.

You should apply as a EU candidate if you fall under any of the following categories:

- You have a passport of one of the countries mentioned below* and you live anywhere around the world;
(eg. You have a Spanish passport and you live in the Philippines)
- You don't have a passport of any of the countries mentioned below* BUT you live in Italy and have a valid permesso di soggiorno/residence permit;
(eg. You have a Colombian passport and you live in Italy with a valid residence permit)
- You have more than one passport, for example a non-EU passport AND a EU passport and you live anywhere in the world.

The EU passport always takes priority as mentioned in the Application Guidelines;
(eg. You have a Brazilian and a Portuguese passport, you live in Brazil).

NON-EU candidates

There are 50 (fifty) available seats for non-EU citizens living abroad (that is students requiring a student visa): who will be ranked in the NON-EU Ranking.

You should apply as a NON-EU candidate if you fall under the following category:

- You don't have a passport of any of the countries mentioned below* and you live anywhere in the world (excluding Italy).
(eg. You have a UK passport and you live in the UK.)
(eg. You have a Korean passport and you live in Korea.)
(eg. You have a US passport and you live in France.)
(eg. You have an Indian passport and you live in the UAE.)

 list of EU and EU-assimilated countries:
