Creative Italian Storytelling: from Literature to Cinema to other Forms of Fiction

PROF. PERBELLINI MARA/ PROVENZI ILENIA

Area of study:	Italian Culture: Literature, Theatre, Cinema, Music, Philosophy and History
Area Code:	LT/AR320
Method of Instruction:	in-person and live-streaming (dual mode)
Participation:	synchronous/live only

Description

Adaptations have long been a mainstay of Hollywood, Cinecittà and the television networks. Many of the most successful international films are indeed adaptations of novels, plays or true-life stories. We will analyze some of the most important adaptations of Italian Literature and biopics for the seventh art. We will discover masterpieces of Italian Cinema, understanding the changes from the source material to the new text and identifying the resistance of literature. This course is very hands-on because it includes a creative experience through literature and cinema: the writer's lab. Students will be given tools to write a short story and develop it into a short film screenplay, learning the craft of storytelling, creating compelling characters, shading style, mastering structure, writing dialogue. This course provides the student with a new knowledge of humanities (particularly, but not exclusively Italian), from literature to cinema to biography. It is a great opportunity to discover the Italian culture through the arts of time: poetry, literature, and screenwriting. And also a great opportunity to learn creative techniques in writing.

Course contents

Students will learn narrative techniques and how Literature and Biography can be manipulated to create an original piece of art: the screenplay. Students will discover great examples of Italian novels, shorts stories and films and, through them, they'll acquire a deeper knowledge of the Italian Culture.

The students will work in pairs on the final short story and short film screenplay.

Prerequisites

None

Method of instruction

Lecture and Lab. Readings of stories and excerpts of novels and short stories. Screening and analysis of clips of important films adapted from literature, theatre and true-life stories. The source material will be compared to the adaptation, revealing the essence of each medium. Writing exercises.
